

DAUGHTERS OF CHARITY

Disability Support Services

Easy to Read Charter of Rights (Adults)

Name:

PIN:

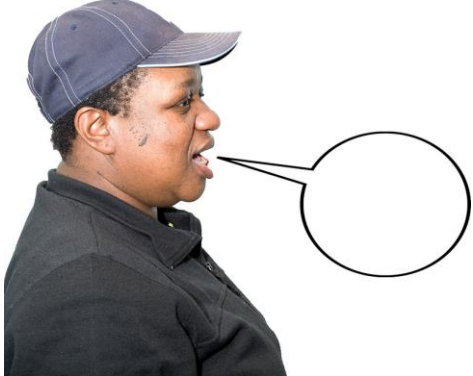

Completed by:

Date:

The Daughters of Charity “Charter of Rights for Adults” was made more ‘user-friendly’ for adults availing of services. It may be difficult for many of the adults in the service to understand the concept of a ‘right’, however, it is essential that all staff working in the service make a conscious effort to ensure that each person experiences their rights. Please outline below how the service user you are key worker for experiences each of the rights.

Easy to Read Charter of Rights for Adults.. To be used in conjunction with Daughters of Charity Charter of Rights Booklet (2012)

My Rights		I given the opportunity to experience or understand these rights, in the following ways:
	To have my own private space.
	To be asked about what I want to do every day, and in the future.
	To be treated the same as everyone else.

	To be heard and understood.
	To stand up for myself.
	To learn and improve my skills.

	To go wherever I want.
	To say 'NO'.
	To an ordinary life, going out and meeting people in community.

To be happy.

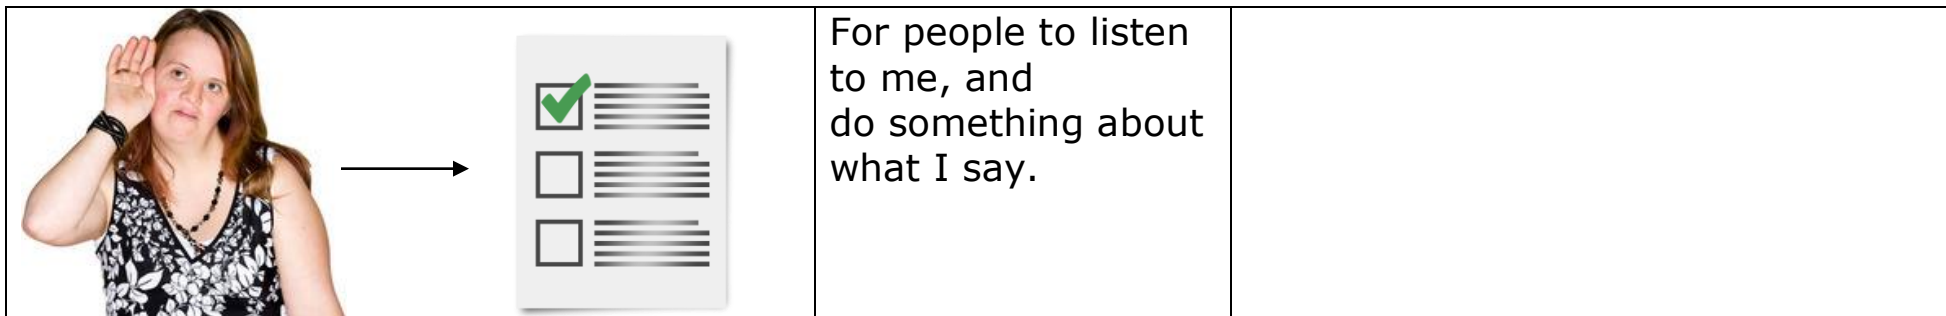

To make choices.

To have close relationships.

	To feel safe.
	To be involved and help out.
	To stay healthy.

Created by:

Aisling Halpin, Speech and Language Therapy and Information Transformation Committee
Aisling Hughes, Speech and Language Therapy Department