

Adding a Contact with a Picture to your iPhone

This is an Easy Read guide to help you add a contact to your iPhone to ring family or friends. It also tells you how to add their pictures once they are saved to your phone.

If you have any questions about the information you can ask a friend or staff member to help you.

 The image shows the 'Contacts' app icon on an iPhone. It features a grey silhouette of a person's head and shoulders on a blue background. To the right of the silhouette is a vertical stack of four colored squares labeled A, B, C, and D. The word 'Contacts' is written in white at the bottom of the icon.	A contact is the person you want to ring or text.
 The image shows a screenshot of an iPhone's 'Favorites' contact list. At the top, it says 'Edit' and 'Favorites' with a plus sign. Below are several contact entries, each with a small circular picture, a name, and a phone number. The entry 'Mum Mobile' is highlighted with a red rectangular box. Other entries include '+++Gate', 'Jordy Mobile', 'Brilliant Web De...', and 'Dean'.	When you have pictures beside your contacts, it is easier to see who you are ringing.
