

WRITTEN BY Orla King

If they have anything to say.

So, I'm going to try my luck

Maybe they'll come fast or slow

I couldn't really say

But I'll give it a go.

The Core Values are

Service, Respect, Excellence,

Collaboration, Justice, and Creativity

Everyone must think just like you and me.

'Cause there's plenty of good thoughts there

We just have to get them straight

If we could do just that

Then we can celebrate.

This is the end

Of all the CORES

I could go on

But there ain't no more
